The revised language looks ok to me.

Subject: Updated Effectiveness evaluation paper and status of other papers

Importance: High

Dear colleagues,

Per our discussion earlier today, attached is the EE paper we sent to State tonight. In addition to the marked up version of the paper, I've provided a clean one (with comments only) for your easier review. If you have any serious concerns with what is proposed here, please let us know by Tuesday at 2 pm.

Status of other papers:

- Storage: Thanks to Karissa for the revised version.
- Releases: Rodges/Marianne working on this to share with you hopefully on Friday.
- Open Burning: We look forward to seeing the paper from Gail/Paul on Tuesday after interagency review is complete.
- Waste/Contaminated Sites: Expect feedback from State and interagency next week (November 13).
- 5 state papers (WHO/ILO, Financial Rules, Finance Mechanism, Technical Assistance, Venue): Please provide your comments in response to State's edits by Tuesday (see Rodges's handy compare and the EPA comments as sent, both in your inboxes tonight).
- 4 state papers (Budget, Rules of Procedure, Secretariat, ICC): Sent to State tonight with your comments. Expect feedback next week.

Thanks and have a nice weekend!

Subject: Effectiveness evaluation paper- EPA comments

Importance: High

Dear colleagues,

Thanks for your patience. We are pleased to present this revised version of the Effectiveness Evaluation paper with changes based on our discussion yesterday. In places where we were comfortable with State's changes, I accepted them, and only left the changes EPA has made since yesterday. I tried to provide comments explaining the changes we made, but please let us know if you have any questions or concerns. In certain places you may see changes inserted by "Jerry" – those were made by me, working yesterday (unexpectedly) from my home computer.

In conversations with our EPA colleagues today, they indicated that they would see value in sharing the revised, final version of this paper with the interagency group one more time. If you think this is workable, we think it would be a good idea. Meanwhile, we will share this version of the paper with our colleagues (per their request) today. We do not expect any serious concerns but will let you know if we hear any by early next week.

We look forward to seeing State's reactions to our edits in the next draft.

Best wishes

Evonne
